We Are Recruiting: Student Recruitment & Marketing Executive

We are looking for a highly organised and creative individual to join our team. Reporting to the Head of Operations, as the Student Recruitment & Marketing Executive you will be responsible for meeting set student recruitment targets, as well as work closely with the administration and operations team to ensure an excellent student experience, being our students' constant point of reference during and following recruitment. You will also be responsible for developing, planning and implementing effective marketing and sales initiatives.

The successful candidate should be educated to degree level, or above. Must possess excellent communication, copywriting and presentation skills, including experience working with MS Office and database applications. You should also have experience in sales and/or marketing and be able to think strategically, plan, prioritise and organise effectively. Experience in student recruitment at Higher Education level will be considered an asset.
